FROM WASTE TO WEALTH

Promoting an environmentally sustainable economy through upskilling and public-private partnerships

Through the project, new services and collaboration opportunities have been developed around:

green skills

specialised training

work-based learning

internships

waste valorisation

circular products

entrepreneurship

The CircuWasteVETAfrica project has supported training institutions and stakeholders in developing programmes and practical services that respond to local skills and labour-market needs, helping to promote a circular economy in the waste sector and create green job opportunities.

These are now supporting concrete partnerships with private companies, public authorities and other stakeholders.
